

RESPECT Program

Information for Coaches

Fundamental Aim: To encourage Respect to:

- The match officials, without whom the game would be much less enjoyable
- The opposition, without whom there would be no game
- The laws, which keep the game fair and safe
- Yourself, set yourself standards and stick to them no matter what anyone else does

As coaches, you determine the kind of experience our players have with football. We want you to be the coach who teaches our players how to play the game, striving to win while pursuing the more important goal of teaching life lessons through sports.

Coach Job Description includes:

Model and teach your players to Honour the Game.

- Teach respect for Laws of the game, Opponents, Officials, Teammates, and one's Self.
- Hold a parent meeting (with your manager) and distribute the RESPECT Parent/Guardian Letter to help convey our aims and what we want to achieve to players and parents
- Consider appointing a parent to be the "Good Sport Advocate" for the team.
- Be the role model. Don't criticise match officials, other players or your own players in public. Accept referee decisions and encourage players to get on with the game. Step in and stop others doing it!
- Seize teachable moments when they occur to talk with players about RESPECT.

Help players pursue mastery of their sport, not just scoreboard wins.

- Teach players that becoming a good player requires effort, learning, and bouncing back from mistakes
- Reward effort, not just good outcomes. Recognize players even for "unsuccessful" effort.
- Encourage players to set "Effort Goals" tied to how hard they try.

Be a positive coach

- Players give their best when they are in a positive frame of mind
- Use encouragement and positive reinforcement as your primary method of motivating.
- Try and achieve the ratio of five positive reinforcements to each criticism or correction.
- Try and teach players encourage other players.
- Learn to give "Kid-Friendly Criticism," such as criticizing in private, asking permission, and avoiding criticism when they are not in the appropriate frame of mind.

Have conversations with your players at every practice and game.

- Ask questions and encourage players to speak and contribute during team meetings.
- Ask them about how they want to improve their enjoyment of the game

Your adoption of these philosophies and actions will contribute to a positive, character-building youth sports experience for all the children our organization serves. Thank you for all your time and effort!
